

Lower Town

NTK

Holiday Season is starting to sparkle everywhere, and Lower Town is all lit up and ready for you with beautiful art and one-of-a-kind pieces that will add something unique to your gift list. Break away from the crowds, and spend some leisurely hours shopping Lower Town. Galleries have extended hours all month and, of course, on Second Saturday, December 12th, as well. Get a few ideas from the listings below, get in the spirit and then get on down to Lower Town!

NEED TO KNOW NEED TO KNOW NEED TO KNOW

...what's happening now

Cowango Studios 517 N 8th Street "Day by Day"

Second Saturday, Dec. 12th, 12 noon- 8 pm

Stefanie Graves will exhibit small format works from her series of daily paintings. Check out her blog, Accidental Truths, to help you decide which one to purchase. Available framed and unframed.

David Lucht will show his "Batik Stars" collection for 2009. Each tree ornament is created with the same batik technique used in his personal style of painting. Jazz up your Christmas with one of these handmade ornaments!

Terra Cottage 514 N 7th Street Studio Art Yard Sale Dec. 18, 19 & 20

Michael Terra will put together all of his experiments and "chip & dents" from around his studio, lay it all out on folding tables, and let you have at it!

The Kookie Bar will be open, and, of course, people will have full access to the rest of the Gallery!

The Egg & I Gallery 335 N 6th Street

For December, The Egg & I Gallery is featuring lots of handmade, unique jewelry priced right for the holidays. We have something great for your Mom, the kids' teachers, your spouse, co-workers, neighbors, knitting/book club circle, nieces, sisters and aunts. We also have some great pottery that is perfect for gift-giving!

Judeen's Art Studio & Gallery 720 Harrison Street

Paducah School of Art Ceramics II students' work will be on display 12-6 pm on Friday, December 11 and from 12-8 pm Saturday, December 12 for the Second Saturday gallery walk. Come by and meet the students, on Saturday from 4:30 - 6:00 pm, and learn more about ceramics and the Paducah School of Art.

Emma Johnson will make a special singing appearance from 4:30 - 6:00 pm on Saturday December 12 for the Second Saturday gallery walk. Emma is a multitalented local fourth grader who is involved in the Paducah Symphony Children's Choir and in Market House Theater productions. She was recently featured as a Rising Star on Channel 2. Emma will be performing in the Market House Theater's production of the "Best Christmas Pageant Ever" in the role of Alice this month. Come by Judeen's and experience Emma's unique performance.

Check out ALL of the galleries in LowerTown during Second Saturday as most galleries have extended hours. For a complete listing of galleries, click here or go to the LowerTown Arts District Association website for more information, including a map of the area. Galleries are open from 12 noon - 8 pm.

Deb Lyons

Congratulations to Deb Lyons who's mixed media art quilt will be included in the Fall 2010 Equestrian Quilt Show at the Quilt Museum. This is sure to be a great exhibition during this international event, and we are proud of Deb.

Stefanie Graves

Stefanie won a cash award for third place in watercolor for her painting, "Mexican Place Settings II," in the 2009 Art Ability Exhibition at Bryn Mawr Rehab Hospital in Malvern, Pennsylvania. The show is ongoing through January 17, 2010.
